

Free Legal Help... Do You Qualify?

TAAP

Tax Appeals Assistance
Program (TAAP)

What is the Tax Appeals Assistance Program (TAAP)?

The Board of Equalization's (BOE) Taxpayers' Rights Advocate (TRA) created TAAP to provide low-income taxpayers who have filed an appeal with the BOE the opportunity to seek free legal assistance.

What help is available?

If you are sure that your tax bill is wrong and you do not have the resources to hire professional assistance, TAAP might be able to help. TAAP offers free legal assistance to qualifying appellants for which a decision by the BOE has been requested.

TAAP offers this valuable free service to people who cannot afford to pay for legal or tax help. If your case is accepted, a qualified law student, working under the close supervision of an experienced tax attorney, will help you with your appeal at no cost to you.

How do I qualify?

The most important rule is that the amount you have been told that you owe, or the amount of refund you are claiming, must be less than $20,000.

Will TAAP protect my privacy?

Your privacy is protected by the attorney/client privilege.

Will TAAP really be able to help me?

The program has been an essential tool in fulfilling the intent of the Taxpayers' Bill of Rights. Since TAAP began in 2006, hundreds of TAAP cases have been resolved.

As a result, people have saved many thousands of dollars in legal fees. If not for TAAP, many taxpayers would have to face the tax agency alone, hire representation themselves, or just give up and pay the disputed bill.

What if I'm not happy with TAAP?

You may withdraw your case at any time.

Is TAAP limited to handling specific tax issues?

TAAP is only authorized to assist taxpayers whose appeals address one of these specific issues:

Decisions of the Franchise Tax Board

- Head of household filing status
- Penalty relief
- Residency
- Request to remove or stop interest
- Statute of limitations
- Federal action (notice of proposed assessment based on an action by the Internal Revenue Service)
- California's method to tax nonresidents/part-year residents
- Child and dependent care credits
- Exemption credits
- Other state tax credits
- Personal income tax deductions
- Corporate minimum tax
- Innocent spouse claims

Billings by the Board of Equalization

- Consumer use tax
- Civil violations of California Cigarette/Tobacco Products License Act

“When I received that past due tax bill in the mail I was shocked. I could not afford the tax let alone pay for legal help.

...(TAAP) helped me through the appeal process and it really was free.”
